

Stronger Partnerships. Powered by the Partner Portal.

Evolve: Partner Portal allows external partners to easily manage their contractual obligations with a university or organization.

Key Benefits

01 Clear and Transparent Communication

The Partner Portal simplifies communication and ensures transparency, giving partners real-time access to their obligations while providing universities, research institutions, and the inventing organization with an organized way to monitor partner compliance and financial performance. Through the portal, partners can view and submit non-financial obligations such as progress reports, compliance documentation, and milestone achievements. Additionally, they can track upcoming financial obligations, including payment deadlines, royalty calculations, and other financial commitments.

02 Improve Relationships with Licensees

Having a clear understanding of contractual obligations makes the partnership between the two parties much easier to manage. Fewer emails and back-and-forth communications result in faster, more seamless transactions.

03 Save Time and Frustration

The Partner Portal not only enhances compliance by providing visibility but also sends automated email alerts to remind licensees of upcoming obligations. Additionally, the online data entry replaces traditional PDF/Word submissions, making it easier to collect data and produce analyses. This self-service allows partners to stay compliant with their agreement terms, reducing the need for manual follow-ups.

Evolve

Drive greater efficiency and increase your overall impact with Evolve, Wellspring's next-generation software platform for technology transfer and innovation offices.

Head to our website to learn more,
or schedule a personalized demo

Scan or click the QR code

For academic institutions and government agencies to forward-thinking corporations bringing products to market. Wellspring is the premier innovation and IP management partner that bridges the gap between research and commercialization, activating opportunities and driving growth.

We deliver solutions that simplify complex processes, from initial discovery to market success, giving our customers the ability to innovate more effectively and efficiently.